19. Disputes / Arbitration.

- A. All parties agree to resolve their disputes by binding arbitration. All disputes and controversies of any kind arising pursuant to or in connection with this Agreement, the electronic cotton marketing system of The Seam, LLC, and/or the sale, resale, delivery, and/or payment for ewrs or cotton or other products offered or marketed pursuant to The Seam system, shall be resolved by final binding arbitration and judgment may be entered on the arbitration award.
- B. If the arbitration concerns an international sale, the parties agree to arbitration pursuant to the ICA rules and bylaws provided the ICA accepts jurisdiction of the dispute and of all parties to the dispute. In such event the ICA shall be the Selecting Person. If the ICA does not accept jurisdiction, another Selecting Person shall be chosen. As used herein, “International Sale” means a sale which requires international shipment and delivery of physical cotton (as opposed to mere delivery of ewrs).
- C. Hearings and proceedings may be conducted in any places as may be designated by the arbitrators. The parties agree to non-exclusive venue in Memphis, Tennessee for purposes of enforcement of the award. The parties agree that the award shall be deemed to have been made in Memphis, Tennessee for purposes of non-exclusive venue under the U.S. Arbitration Act.
- D. The arbitrating parties shall equally advance the expected expenses, costs and fees of the arbitrators, as estimated by the arbitrators. The arbitrators may employ counsel to assist them and include such costs in their expenses. In the event that a party subject to arbitration refuses to advance its share of the arbitration fees, costs and expenses, the other party or parties may advance those, subject to reallocation in the arbitration decision. The arbitration decision may reallocate the expenses, costs and fees.
- E. Arbitrations will be conducted before three (3) arbitrators selected by mutual agreement by the arbitrating parties or from The Seam “Panel” of qualified arbitrators.

Failing mutual agreement on selection by the parties, The Seam's chief executive officer shall select a third party to act as the "Selecting Person", and the Selecting Person shall select the arbitrators. If The Seam is a party to the arbitration, the President of the American Cotton Shippers Association shall select the arbitrators or select an association or a company providing arbitration services to conduct the arbitration.

- F. The Selecting Person may be an individual, or may be an association or a company providing arbitration services, including but not limited, to the American Arbitration Association (AAA), the Memphis Cotton Exchange (MCE), the International Cotton Association (ICA), and the American Cotton Shippers Association (ACSA). If AAA, ICA, ACSA, MCE or other arbitration association or company is selected as the Selecting Person, the arbitration shall be conducted under the respective rules and bylaws of the AAA, ICA or ACSA, or other selected arbitration association or company, whichever is selected. The parties to the arbitration shall pay the fees and expenses of the arbitrators and of the association or company which conducts the arbitration. If The Seam, LLC is a party to the arbitration, ICA shall not be the selecting person.
- G. Since the parties desire to have experienced and knowledgeable arbitrators, and in the cotton industry most firms do business with one another, it shall not be a basis for disqualification of an arbitrator on grounds of conflict of interest if the arbitrator or his or her company or the Selecting Person has done or will do business with any of the disputing parties. An arbitrator or Selecting Person may be selected even though he or she is employed by a company owning an interest in The Seam, provided the company owns less than a ten percent (10%) interest in The Seam.
- H. If the AAA is the Selecting Person, the parties agree to the Commercial Arbitration Rules of the American Arbitration Association. If the ICA is designated as the Selecting Person, the parties agree to the ICA Rules and Bylaws. If ACSA arbitration is designated, the parties agree to ACSA arbitration rules. If MCE is designated, the parties agree to MCE arbitration rules. If another arbitration association or company is designated, the parties agree to the arbitration rules of that association or company.
- I. The written decision of a majority of the arbitrators shall be final and binding. Following the rendering of a written arbitration decision, any party may apply to an appropriate court and obtain judgment on the award. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if preliminary, temporary, or permanent injunctive relief is appropriate; nothing in this Rule 19 shall prevent action in an appropriate court for such extraordinary relief.
- J. These provisions are agreed to even if The Seam is a party to the arbitration.

20. "Panel" Of Qualified Arbitrators.

The Seam's "Panel" of Qualified Arbitrators shall include: (i) persons with at least ten (10) years experience in the cotton industry; (ii) persons chosen by agreement of the arbitrating parties; or (iii) in cases where the American Arbitration Association or the American Cotton Shippers Association or the International Cotton Association or other arbitration association or company is chosen to be the Selecting Person, the Panel includes the Memphis Cotton Exchange persons considered by such selected association or company to be qualified arbitrators.

28. Loan Deficiency Payment ("LDP").

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, in order to allow Seller to apply for loan deficiency payments, if any, from the Farm Service Agency of the United States Department of Agriculture the following provisions will apply to any transaction in which a Seller makes an LDP application after establishing an agreed price with a Buyer. Title, risk of loss to, and beneficial interest in, the cotton shall remain in the Seller until the Seller transfers the ewrs to The Seam. This is intended to provide the Seller a time period in which it may, by fax or otherwise, make its application for loan deficiency payments. If Seller intends to file an LDP application with the USDA after making an agreement to sell pursuant to Paragraph 1(D) of the Participation Agreement Seller should do so before delivery of the ewrs to The Seam. Seller acknowledges that after the ewrs are delivered to The Seam, Seller's cotton may no longer be eligible for loan deficiency payments or other benefits under farm programs requiring Seller to retain beneficial interest.

50. ATPLC Terms—Sales by Form G Sellers and LSA Sellers (PCCA and Telmark) Subject to Superseding Agreements.

- A. All ATPLC transactions on The Seam system are subject to Rule 50, Rule 51, or Rule 52.
- B. When cotton identified on the recap as being in the loan is the subject of a transaction, if Buyer does not elect to purchase an ATPLC, Seller will, immediately after Buyer and Seller have agreed on the price, redeem the cotton from the loan, and the transaction will proceed under the other applicable Rules, Terms, and conditions [cash transaction rules]. When loan cotton is offered for sale by an LSA or cooperative (Form G Seller) the LSA or Form G Seller responsible for redemption will be identified in the recap information.
- C. When the transaction is to purchase and/or sell an ATPLC, if “Seller” is either a Form G Seller or a Loan Servicing Agent of the USDA (“LSA”) and the parties have entered into a superseding agreement, this Rule 50 will apply. Under this Rule 50 “Buyer” will mean the buyer of the right to redeem loan cotton, pursuant to the terms of a written preexisting agreement (“Superseding Agreement”) between a Form G Seller (a cooperative) or LSA Seller, and the Buyer
- D. No Buyer of an ATPLC may purchase an ATPLC from a Seller which is an LSA of Form G Seller unless the Buyer previously has in effect a Superseding Agreement with the Form G Seller or LSA Seller
- E. In the event of a conflict between the Superseding Agreement and any terms of the Participation Agreement and/or in the Rules and Terms the Superseding Agreement shall govern except that any dispute between or among Buyer, Seller, and/or The Seam shall be subject to arbitration as provided in The Seam Rules and Terms.
- F. Any party offering to buy an ATPLC on Rule 50 terms, represents and warrants to the Seller and to The Seam that it has previously executed a Superseding Agreement with the Form G Seller or LSA Seller which is selling such agreement. If no agreement exists, sale will revert back to cash at the discretion of the Form G/LSA seller.
- G. The ATPLC Seller warrants to the ATPLC Buyer and The Seam that the producer and the cotton to be offered, sold, or delivered under ATPLC terms meet all eligibility requirements for the CCC price support loan, that such cotton was in such CCC Loan at the time of the offer and sale of the ATPLC, and that if there is an exercise of the ATPLC the ewrs delivered to Buyer upon redemption will be marketable.

- H. After an agreement to buy and sell the ATPLC has been reached:
 - 1. Seller will transfer the right to redeem loan cotton to The Seam by 9:00 a.m. CT the next business day after Buyer and Seller reach agreement on the price, and The Seam will immediately pay the Seller the price less The Seam's fee to Seller. The Seam will invoice Buyer for the price plus The Seam's fee. The Buyer will pay The Seam no later than 1:00 p.m. CT on the date the Buyer is invoiced. Upon receipt of payment, The Seam will transfer the ATPLC to the Buyer.
 - 2. From and after the time of agreeing on an ATPLC price, provided Seller is timely paid the ATPLC price, Seller will thereafter hold such right in trust for said Buyer (or The Seam, if Buyer defaults) and Seller will not provide any other party with such right to exercise the ATPLC without authorization from the Buyer (or The Seam, if the Buyer defaults).
- I. All redemptions involving the ATPLC shall be handled directly between the Buyer and the Form G or LSA Seller. All accrued compress charges will follow the ewrs.
- J. The producer which placed the cotton in the CCC Loan retains the risk of loss or damage to the cotton and shall retain control of, and title to the ewrs representing the cotton until delivery. Such producer has the exclusive authority to redeem or authorize the redemption of the ewrs to be sold hereunder from the CCC loan. Notwithstanding any other provision of the ATPLC, title, risk of loss, and beneficial interest in the cotton, as specified in 7 CFR Part 1427 shall remain with the producer which placed the ewrs in the CCC Loan until the Buyer exercises the right to redeem the ewrs. The right to redeem shall expire, notwithstanding any action or inaction by either the producer which placed the ewrs in the CCC Loan or the Buyer, at the earlier of: (i) the maturity of any CCC price support loan which is secured by such ewrs; (ii) the date the CCC claims title to such ewrs; or (ii) such other date as provided in the ATPLC.
- K. The parties acknowledge that the USDA imposes payment limitations upon USDA Farm Program entitlements, payments, and benefits, and that the price to be paid by Buyer does not take into consideration such limitations. In the event a producer's payment limitation causes Buyer to pay the USDA/CCC in excess of the Adjusted World Price ("AWP") to obtain redemption, then Seller will promptly reimburse Buyer for Buyer's redemption cost in excess of AWP. It is intended that Buyer's redemption price shall not exceed AWP, and that any redemption cost in excess of AWP shall be for Seller's account. If a Seller is acting as agent for a producer, Seller will look to said producer for reimbursement of such amount.
- L. The Buyer must elect immediate redemption and delivery if Buyer purchases the ATPLC during the last month of eligibility for redemption.

51. ATPLC Terms—Transactions Not Subject to Superseding Agreements.

- A. All ATPLC transactions on The Seam system are subject to Rule 50, Rule 51, or Rule 52.
- B. When cotton identified on the recap as being in the loan is the subject of a transaction, if Buyer does not elect to purchase an ATPLC, Seller will redeem the cotton from the loan, and the transaction will proceed under the other applicable Rules, Terms, and conditions [cash transaction rules]. ATPLC bales entered into CCC loan at FSA county offices may not be available for immediate redemption by The Seam on Thursday unless Electronic Agent Designation (EAD) has been executed. ATPLC bales entered into CCC loan by Form G and approved LSAs will be available for immediate redemption by The Seam. Immediate redemption bales traded under Rule 51 must be designated prior to 3:30 PM CT. Exceptions to this time may occur if trading closes early. Redemption orders for ATPLC purchases under Rule 51 must be submitted by 12:15 CT.

- C. When an agreement to purchase and/or sell is an ATPLC and Buyer and Seller have not entered into a Superseding Agreement (see Rule 50), this Rule 51 or Rule 52 will apply.
- D. Notwithstanding any other provision of the Participation Agreement or these Rules and Terms, when a Rule 51 ATPLC is the subject of an offer, sale, or other transaction any terms of the Participation Agreement and/or in the Rules and Terms inconsistent with this Rule 51 shall be deemed to have been superseded by this Rule 51.
- E. The Seller warrants to the Buyer that the producer and the cotton to be offered, sold, or delivered under ATPLC terms meet all eligibility requirements for the CCC price support loan, that such cotton was in such CCC Loan at the time of the offer and sale of the ATPLC, and that if there is an exercise of the right to redeem loan cotton, the ewrs delivered to Buyer upon redemption will be marketable. A Seller of Form A ATPLC bales [FSA county office cotton] warrants to The Seam that Electronic Agent Designation (EAD) will be executed if requested by The Seam prior to an ATPLC transaction. The Seam reserves the right to require Electronic Agent Designation (EAD) on all ATPLC bales.
- F. After an agreement to buy and sell the ATPLC has been reached:
 - 1. Seller will transfer the ATPLC to The Seam by 9:00 a.m. CT the next business day after Buyer and Seller reach agreement on the price, and The Seam will immediately pay the Seller the price less The Seam's fee to Seller. The Seam will invoice Buyer for the price plus The Seam's fee. The Buyer will pay The Seam no later than 1:00 p.m. CST on the date the Buyer is invoiced. Upon receipt of payment, The Seam will transfer the ATPLC to the Buyer.
 - 2. From and after the time of agreeing on a price, provided Seller is timely paid the price, Seller will thereafter hold such right in trust for said Buyer (or The Seam, if Buyer defaults) and Seller will not provide any other party with such right to redeem loan cotton without authorization from the Buyer (or The Seam, if the Buyer defaults).
- G. All redemptions involving the ATPLC shall be handled between the Buyer and The Seam. All accrued compress charges will follow the ewrs.
- H. The producer which placed the cotton in the CCC Loan retains the risk of loss or damage to the cotton and shall retain control of, and title to the ewrs representing the cotton until delivery. Such producer has the exclusive authority to redeem or authorize the redemption of the ewrs to be sold hereunder from the CCC loan. Notwithstanding any other provision of the ATPLC, title, risk of loss, and beneficial interest in the cotton, as specified in 7 CFR Part 1427 shall remain with the producer which placed the cotton in the CCC Loan until the Buyer exercises the right to redeem loan cotton. The right to redeem shall expire, notwithstanding any action or inaction by either the producer which placed the cotton in the CCC Loan or the Buyer, at the earlier of: (i) the maturity of any CCC price support loan which is secured by such cotton; (ii) the date the CCC claims title to such cotton; or (iii) such other date as provided in the ATPLC.
- I. The Form G or LSA ATPLC Seller will cause the redemption of the ewrs representing the cotton from the CCC Loan and will deliver them to the buyer upon: (a) Timely notification of the Buyer's intent to exercise the right to redeem. Timely notification under Rule 51. I. is defined as 12:15 CT each business day; (b) Timely receipt of the price and of all sums required to redeem the bale of cotton from the CCC loan, including, but not necessarily limited to, all accrued interest, storage, CCC reconcentration charges, bank draft charges and other charges due CCC, if any, from the loan and/or storage date. The Seam may, at its sole discretion, require payment prior to the execution of a redemption order through its DSO system; (c) Provided however, that the Seller is only obligated to make delivery of the ewrs if notification of the Buyer's intent to exercise the right to redeem and all required payments have been made no later than one (1) business day preceding the maturity date of the CCC loan. The right to redeem shall expire if it is not timely and properly executed so as to allow the Seller sufficient time in the normal course of business to redeem the cotton from the CCC loan prior to the CCC Maturity Date.

- J. In the event the right to redeem expires and the loan collateral cotton is acquired by the CCC, the Buyer agrees upon demand to reimburse Seller or the producer for whom the Seller is acting as agent, for all receiving, storage, and any other charges which may be assessed against producer by the CCC as a result of Buyer's failure to timely exercise the right to redeem.
- K. The parties acknowledge that the USDA imposes payment limitations upon USDA Farm Program entitlements, payments, and benefits, and that the price to be paid by Buyer does not take into consideration such limitations. In the event a producer's payment limitation causes Buyer to pay the USDA/CCC in excess of the Adjusted World Price ("AWP") to obtain redemption, then Seller will promptly reimburse Buyer for Buyer's redemption cost in excess of AWP. It is intended that Buyer's redemption price shall not exceed AWP, and that any redemption cost in excess of AWP shall be for Seller's account.
- L. If in The Seam's judgment, market conditions or potential market present a risk that the Seller's liability under the above subparagraph K may be triggered, The Seam may withhold funds that would otherwise go to Seller pending redemption and settlement. The Seam's failure to exercise this discretionary option will impose no liability on The Seam nor will it release the parties from their obligations, including their obligations in the above sub paragraph K.

52. ATPLC Terms— (CCC Form 605 Sales).

- A. All ATPLC transactions on The Seam system are subject to Rule 50, Rule 51, or Rule 52.
- B. In order to offer an ATPLC on The Seam other than pursuant to Rule 50 or Rule 51 Seller warrants to The Seam that all parties who must sign a CCC Form 605 in order to make it transferable to a subsequent buyer of the underlying ATPLC have done so and have executed a FSA Form 237 and have filed it Commodity Credit Corporation ("CCC") or CCC's agent.
- C. The Seller warrants to the Buyer and The Seam:
 - 1. that Buyer will, if Buyer elects to do so, be able to redeem said cotton by complying with the applicable USDA requirements for redemption;
 - 2. that the producer and the cotton to be offered, sold, or delivered under ATPLC terms meet all eligibility requirements for the CCC price support loan, that such cotton was in such CCC Loan at the time of the offer and sale of the right to redeem;
 - 3. that if there is an exercise of the right to redeem the ewrs delivered to Buyer upon redemption will be marketable;
 - 4. that Buyer shall be provided with a valid CCC Form 605 authorizing Buyer to redeem the cotton described in the ATPLC. Seller further agrees to transfer a

- valid CCC-605 by 9:00 AM CT the following business day after the trade or on request, facilitate redemption of the loan cotton for the benefit of the Buyer;
5. that Buyer shall be provided with identification of the appropriate county office or LSA at which the cotton was pledged (and therefore must be redeemed);
 6. that all information provided by Seller is accurate.
- D. When a Buyer and Seller reach agreement for the sale of an ATPLC subject to this Rule 52, Seller must transmit via fax to The Seam a properly endorsed , valid CCC-605 by 9:00 AM CT the following business day after the trade or on request, facilitate redemption of the loan cotton for the benefit of the Buyer. The Seam will invoice the Buyer for price, plus The Seam's fee within one (1) day following the agreement to buy and sell. The Buyer will pay The Seam no later than 1:00 p.m. CST on the date Buyer is invoiced. Upon receipt of payment, The Seam will transfer via fax the CCC Form 605 to the Buyer endorsed in blank or to the Buyer. The Seam will also remit the agreed price to the Seller less The Seam's fee. In such case subsequent redemption will be arranged directly between the Buyer and the appropriate county office or LSA.
 - E. All accrued compress charges will follow the ewrs. The producer which placed the cotton in the CCC Loan retains the risk of loss or damage to the cotton and shall retain control of, and title to the ewrs representing the cotton until delivery. Such producer has the exclusive authority to redeem or authorize the redemption of the ewrs to be sold hereunder from the CCC loan. Notwithstanding any other provision of the ATPLC, title, risk of loss, and beneficial interest in the cotton, as specified in 7 CFR Part 1427 shall remain with the producer which placed the cotton in the CCC Loan until the Buyer exercises the right to redeem the cotton. The right to redeem shall expire, notwithstanding any action or inaction by either the producer which placed the cotton in the CCC Loan or the Buyer, at the earlier of: (i) the maturity of any CCC price support loan which is secured by such cotton; (ii) the date the CCC claims title to such cotton; or (iii) such other date as provided in the ATPLC.
 - F. Notwithstanding any other provision of the Participation Agreement or these Rules and Terms, when a Rule 52 ATPLC is the subject of an offer, sale, or other transaction any terms of the Participation Agreement and/or in the Rules and Terms inconsistent with this Rule 51 shall be deemed to have been superseded by this Rule 52.
 - G. In the event the right to redeem expires and the loan collateral cotton is acquired by the CCC, the Buyer agrees upon demand to reimburse the producer for whom the Seller was acting as agent, for all receiving, storage, and any other charges which may be assessed against producer by the CCC as a result of Buyer's failure to timely exercise the right to redeem.
 - H. The parties acknowledge that the USDA imposes payment limitations upon USDA Farm Program entitlements, payments, and benefits, and that the price to be paid by Buyer does not take into consideration such limitations. In the event a producer's payment limitation causes Buyer to pay the USDA/CCC in excess of the Adjusted World Price ("AWP") to obtain redemption, then Seller will promptly reimburse Buyer for Buyer's redemption cost in excess of AWP. It is intended that Buyer's redemption price shall not exceed AWP, and that any redemption cost in excess of AWP shall be for Seller's account. If a Seller is acting as agent for a producer, Seller will look to said producer for reimbursement of such amount.
 - I. Seller will not be allowed to sell an ATPLC after the twenty-first (21st) day of the last month of eligibility for redemption.

- J. All redemptions involving the ATPLC shall be handled off line between the Buyer and the county office or LSA. (Note: On-line redemption services may be offered as a convenience by third parties via Web-LSA).
- K. If in The Seam’s judgment, market conditions or potential market present a risk that the Seller’s liability under the above subparagraph H may be triggered, The Seam may withhold funds that would otherwise go to Seller pending redemption and settlement. The Seam’s failure to exercise this discretionary option will impose no liability on The Seam nor will it release the parties from their obligations, including their obligations in the above sub paragraph H.

53. Headings

Headings for these rules are for convenience and do not limit the content thereof.

54. Scope of the Seam's Responsibility for Quality.

The Seam may provide a comparison of bale quality data uploaded by the seller to data from USDA’s Agricultural Marketing Service (AMS). Bale quality data from AMS is intended solely for purposes of marketing cotton on The Seam. Any other use of AMS data obtained through The Seam is prohibited. As between the Seam and the Buyer:

- A. If the Seller provides classing data which conflicts with the AMS classing data in whole or in part, Buyer assumes the risk of the quality of those bales affected by the conflict;
- B. If AMS classing data is incomplete in whole or in part, Buyer assumes the risk of the quality of the bales for which there was incomplete AMS classing data;
- C. If Buyer purchases before completing online verification of the AMS classing data, Buyer assumes the risk of the quality of the bales not verified.

55. Cotton Board Fees.

The Seam will not be responsible for collecting or paying Cotton Board fees.

56. Basis Pricing and Related Matters

- A. The Seam shall from time to time specify on The Seam System the contract month or months available for basis trading on The Seam System. When an Agreement to buy and sell on the B2B system is reached using a Basis Price, Buyer and Seller agree as follows:

The “Basis Price” shall be established when Buyer and Seller negotiate the sale of ewrs with a specified difference on or off of the agreed month of the Intercontinental Exchange, Inc. (ICE) #2 cotton futures contract. The Basis Price shall be converted to a fixed price based upon the official closing price for the agreed futures contract month on ICE on the business day the Agreement is made, unless Agreement is made on a day the ICE is closed or is made within forty-five (45) minutes of closing on a day that the ICE is open, in which cases the Basis Price shall be converted to a fixed price based upon the official closing price on the next business day after the day of the Agreement on which the ICE is open.

Delivery and payment for ewrs: The ewrs shall be delivered and paid for as provided in the Seam Participation Agreement and Rules.

EFP: On the day the Basis Price is converted to a fixed price, Buyer shall transfer and deliver to the Seam’s designated futures commission merchant the Calculated Number of long ICE #2 cotton futures contracts for the agreed month. The Calculated Number of contracts shall be determined by dividing the total number of bales in the Agreement by 100 and then rounding to the nearest whole number of contracts (e.g., 15.5 contracts means 16, and if the basis trade is for 49 bales or less, there will be no exchange of futures). The Seam's designated futures commission merchant shall transfer and deliver those long contracts to the Seller via Seller's designated futures commission merchant, and Seller agrees to accept the transferred long contracts.

Should either party default in its obligations hereunder with regard to the exchange of futures for physicals, the non-defaulting party shall mitigate its damage, if any, as soon as possible on the ICE, and invoice The Seam for the resulting market loss, if any, and The Seam shall pay for that loss. The Seam shall not be liable for any damages other than the market loss established by prompt mitigation on the ICE (or which would have been so established if the non-defaulting party failed to promptly mitigate). If the Seam is required to pay the non-defaulting party for such loss, the defaulting party shall promptly repay the Seam plus $500.00 per futures contract. If the defaulting party fails to promptly reimburse the Seam, it shall also become liable for the Seam's legal fees and expenses.

- B. The G2B basis price shall be established when Buyer and Seller agree on The Seam for the sale of a specified number of ewrs with a difference (basis) applied on or off the agreed month of the ICE #2 cotton futures contract. The G2B Basis Price shall be converted to a fixed price based upon the weighted average of the actual executed futures order price for the trade placed by The Seam by dividing the total number of bales in the agreement by 100 and then by rounding to the nearest whole number of contracts (e.g. 15.5 contracts means 16). G2B offers of 49 bales or less are not eligible for basis trading. The buyer and seller expressly agree that The Seam has their authority to enter a futures order on behalf of the buyer, whereby this order shall be used to calculate their fixed market price. The futures order will be submitted by The Seam within reasonable time after buyer and seller agree on The Seam's system to the basis difference. Executed futures will be "given up" to the buyer's futures account. The Buyer agrees that The Seam is authorized to sell futures on his behalf and the buyer is responsible for notifying his agent or broker to expect the "give up." The Buyer and Seller will be bound by the fixation level reported by The Seam. The Seam will have no liability for futures executions and will have no liability for errors, negligence, misconduct, miscommunication, or any other cause of poor executions by the broker, clearing broker, or trader.

The G2B basis trading will remain open for bidding during the same hours and days as The Seam's B2B trading platform. The Buyer and Seller will be able to enter in to a basis agreement from the opening of the trading period for the ICE Cotton #2 contract until 5 minutes before the closing of the ICE Cotton #2 contract. In the event for any reason a futures sale fails to be executed the same day of a G2B basis agreement, then the futures order will be entered for the open of the ICE Cotton #2 contract on the following ICE business day.

If for any reason either party should default in its obligation hereunder, The Seam shall be entitled to recover any loss sustained. The defaulting party shall promptly repay The Seam for any loss, cost, expense, or damage plus attorney's fees and $500.00 per futures contract.

57. Participant's Responsibility to Check Calculations and Data.

The Seam provides calculations for Participants and manipulates Participant data in various ways. Human error, software instability, and programming error are always a possibility. Accordingly, by using The Seam, Participants agree that they shall have final responsibility for verifying the accuracy of calculations and data. Participants agree to notify The Seam immediately if there is any error.

58. Authority to Obtain, Provide and Post Bale Information.

A Participant from time to time may sell cotton (ewrs) on The Seam, LLC, and a Participant from time to time may sell ATPLCs to purchase ewrs which have been placed in the Commodity Credit Corporation (“CCC”) loan. From time to time a Participant may offer to sell ewrs which are pledged as collateral with a lending institution, as to which Participant holds equitable title. While the CCC or other lending institution is the holder of ewrs representing the cotton which a Participant wishes to sell, a Participant may be designated by the CCC or lending institution as the subholder of the ewr. In order to market a Participant’s interest in such ewrs it is necessary to post on The Seam the bale data for such ewrs, and in order to facilitate the process of marketing and to assure The Seam, LLC and EWR, Inc. of their authority to take the following actions, all Participants provide the following authority regarding the bale data information for those ewrs of which they are the holders or subholders:

- A. When a holder or a subholder of ewrs provides to The Seam, LLC an electronic communication listing bale numbers for ewrs or ATPLCs which it wishes to market on The Seam, The Seam is authorized to request the bale data information from EWR, Inc. for such bales; and
- B. When EWR, Inc. receives a request for bale data from The Seam, LLC and the request contains bale identification numbers and the name of the holder of the subholder of those bales, upon verification by EWR, Inc. that the records of EWR, Inc. show that the identified subholder is in fact the subholder for the bales listed, EWR, Inc. is authorized to provide bale data information to The Seam, LLC for those bales; and
- C. The Seam, LLC is authorized to receive such bale data and to post it on its system for purposes of marketing.
- D. If a provider of electronic warehouse receipt transfer services other than EWR, Inc. is used by Participant, that provider and The Seam, LLC are granted the same authority as is granted above to The Seam, LLC and EWR, Inc.

59. Peanut “In-store” The Seam Terms 20

(U.S. Domestic Unrestricted Peanut Sales).

- A. The Gross invoice amount is calculated based on the agreed purchase rice multiplied by the original warehouse net weight per ewr/pwr.
- B. The fees of The Seam shall be deducted from the gross invoice amount. Other posted fees may be deducted by The Seam.

60. Peanut “In-store Export Only” The Seam Terms 21

(U.S. Domestic Restricted Use Peanut Sales).

- A. The Gross invoice amount is calculated based on the agreed purchase price multiplied by the original warehouse net weight per ewr/pwr.
- B. The fees of The Seam shall be deducted from the gross invoice amount. Other posted fees may be deducted by The Seam.
- C. Peanuts purchased under this terms code are restricted to export market only. Buyer agrees to verification if requested.

61. Peanut “In-store Crush Only” The Seam Terms 22

(U.S. Domestic Restricted Use Peanut Sales).

- A. The Gross invoice amount is calculated based on the agreed purchase price multiplied by the original warehouse net weight per ewr/pwr.
- B. The fees of The Seam shall be deducted from the gross invoice amount. Other posted fees may be deducted by The Seam.
- C. Peanuts purchased under this terms code are restricted to crush market only. Buyer agrees to verification if requested.

62. Peanut Receipt Terms

Buyers, sellers and special servicers of electronic and paper warehouse receipts shall independently investigate the terms of receipts of the issuing warehouses. By conducting business on The Seam, buyers, sellers and special servicers represent to The Seam and other parties to any transaction that they are fully familiar with the terms of peanut warehouse receipts issued by the identified warehouses.

63. Peanut Arbitration

The arbitration procedures set forth in rules 19 and 20 shall apply to disputes regarding peanuts, except that any reference to “cotton” in rules 19 and 20 shall be a reference to “peanuts”.

64. Claims for Quality, Misdescription, Concealed Damage, etc.

The parties understand and acknowledge that The Seam does not inspect the bales. The Seam will not be responsible for concealed damage in the bales represented by the ewrs (or concealed in bales represented by paper warehouse receipts if they are used in the transaction), nor will The Seam be liable for misdescription of such bales. Participants understand that millions of bales of cotton are traded on The Seam System, and The Seam does not originate descriptions or verify descriptions of the cotton, its quality, or its condition. Buyers using The Seam agree that The Seam will not be liable if the cotton has been misdescribed, does not have the quality represented, or has damage (concealed or otherwise). The Seam’s sole obligation to the Buyer in such instances is to assign to the Buyer whatever rights it has against the Participant Seller and other person originating information about the cotton.

65. Eligibility for CCC Loan Benefits

All cotton (EWRs) sold on The Seam pursuant to Rules 50, 51 or 52 is warranted by Seller to be eligible for all CCC loan benefits, full storage credits (this includes no reduction for cotton stored outside), and other USDA or CCC credits, subsidies, and benefits including but not limited to marketing loan gains, and the seller warrants that it is eligible for all such benefits, subsidies, and credits.

66. Disputes Concerning CCC or USDA

Because the Commodity Credit Corporation and the USDA and their programs are significant to many of the transactions on The Seam, because the CCC and the USDA have not agreed to arbitration, and because the CCC can only be sued in the Court of Claims if a claim is more than $10,000.00, upon the determination by The Seam that a dispute has arisen in which it is necessary or desirable for the Commodity Credit Corporation and/or the USDA to be a party to the dispute, the arbitration provisions otherwise applicable shall be of no effect.

67. Privacy Notice

The Seam's Privacy Notice is continuously posted on its website and may be reviewed by clicking here or clicking the Privacy Policy link on The Seam's public website. Participant acknowledges receiving the notice.
